Message

Over the past several years, there has been a stronger and wider focus on strengthening internal processes of governance and platforms of execution that could ultimately translate into efficient and transparent delivery of products and services to the targeted consumers.

In keeping with the objective of being committed to consumers / public in orienting our service, the theme for Vigilance Awareness Week- 2016 is aptly titled - "Public participation in promoting Integrity and eradicating corruption" - that enlivens Mahatma Gandhi's philosophy of upholding customer supremacy which is the very reason for our existence.

Your enthusiastic participation in the various programmes designed for engaging stakeholders, during the upcoming observance of Vigilance Awareness Week at GAIL, shall enable precious insights for initiating next wave of systemic improvements in making our processes contemporary and robust. On this occasion, I convey my good wishes and look forward to your whole-hearted involvement.
