MESSAGE

I am very happy to know that the Central Vigilance Commission is organizing the "Vigilance Awareness Week" this year, with focus on "Public Participation in Promoting Integrity and Eradicating Corruption."

As our great Nation takes its steps forward to progress and development, the need for a transparent and clean administration becomes more imperative than ever before. The governance initiatives can be effective only if the service delivery mechanism is efficient and transparent.

Governance reforms, by themselves, are not sufficient. They have to be complemented by a vigilant and committed citizenry. As citizens, all of us, are equally responsible in promoting the values of integrity and eradicating corruption. We can contribute in our own spheres by following the right path and encouraging others to do the same.

It is indeed heartening to note that the Central Vigilance Commission is organizing public outreach programmes to bring in awareness and motivate citizens towards the cause. Organizing of events in various fora like the schools, colleges, Gram Sabhas, etc. would be extremely useful in creating the right environment in this regard. I am also happy to note that the Commission is promoting e-pledges by the citizens as well as corporates.

I wish the Commission success in this endeavor during the Vigilance Awareness Week.
